Veterans Day

World War I fighting ceased between the Allied Nations and Germany on November 11, 1918 at 11:00 am. That's when an armistice, or temporary cessation of hostilities, went into effect

For that reason, many Veterans Day observances begin at the Eleventh Hour, of the Eleventh day, of the Eleventh Month.

Today's event is a tribute to all Veterans, living and dead, who answered the call to service. We are gathered to recognize and honor those who served the cause of freedom throughout our nation's history.
